

Donor FAQ & Ministry Responsibility

Are you a race team or a ministry?

We are a Christian ministry.

Racing is the environment where we serve, not the purpose of our organization. Our primary focus is Gospel outreach, discipleship, and caring for families within the racing community.

Why do you race at all?

Racing provides relational access and credibility at the track. Being part of the racing community allows us to build genuine relationships, open spiritual conversations, and minister consistently to families, drivers, and crews.

Do donations pay for racing?

Donations support the ministry first.

Gifts are directed toward:

- Gospel-centered resources for families (devotionals, videos, books)
- Children's ministry spaces (crafts, snacks, volunteers)
- Chapel services, prayer, and discipleship
- Ministry travel and presence at the track

Racing-related expenses are evaluated carefully and exist only to support ministry access — not competition or personal benefit.

How do you ensure financial integrity?

We operate with:

- Board oversight and accountability
- Clear ministry-focused budgeting

- Expense documentation and review
- A Racing-as-Ministry policy that governs spending

We steward every gift with prayer, transparency, and responsibility.

Is this a short-term outreach or a long-term ministry?

This is a long-term calling.

We are committed to sustained presence, consistent relationships, and faithful discipleship within the racing community—not one-time events.

What about driver development?

Driver development is part of our future vision, not our starting point.

Only after our Gospel outreach and family ministry are firmly established will we begin developing a program that provides access to racing for families who otherwise could not afford it—paired with discipleship and mentorship.

How do you measure success?

We measure success by faithfulness, not finishes.

Impact is seen through:

- Relationships built
- Prayers shared
- Families served
- Discipleship conversations begun and continued

How can I get involved?

You can partner with us through:

- Prayer
- Financial support

- Sharing our ministry with others
- Serving when opportunities arise
